Electric, Autonomous, & Green: The Future of Personal Transportation

May 3, 2023

Harvey J. Miller, Ph.D.
 Bob and Mary Reusche Chair in Geographic Information Science, and Professor and Director, Department of Geography, Center for Urban and Regional Analysis
 The Ohio State University

MOBILEHARV OSUCURA

Harvey J. Miller's research interests include sustainable mobility, resilient communities, and the relationships between human mobility, environmental justice, and wellness.

He seeks to understand how people use mobility and communications technologies to allocate scarce time among activities in geographic space – a perspective known as time geography. He is interested in the social dimensions of transportation, and the implications of human mobility and accessibility for sustainable transportation, livable communities, and public health.

Miller received his Bachelor's and Master's Degrees in Geography from Kent State University and his Ph.D. in Geography from The Ohio State University

Ted Angel
 Director, Aerospace Affairs, Dayton Development Coalition
 DAYTONREGION
 Ted Angel is responsible for executing the Aerospace and Defense strategy in the Dayton Region.

Prior to his role as the Director of Aerospace Affairs, Angel spent 27 and half years in the United States Air Force, where he was the Senior Enlisted Leader for the Agile Combat Support Directorate, Air Force Life-cycle Management Center, and Chief, Acquisitions and Sustainment for the Aircrew Flight Equipment career field.

Angel received his Bachelor's Degree in International Relations from the American Military University.

Preeti Choudhary
 Executive Director, DriveOhio
 DRIVEOHIO
 Preeti Choudhary is a senior Intelligent Transportation Systems engineer with a diverse background in systems engineering analyses, connected and automated vehicle (CV/AV) strategic planning and programming, and technology pilot deployments. Her solid technical background and communication skills make her a bridge between engineers, policy makers, and a wide range of stakeholders.

She has worked with transit and transportation agencies across the country to plan, deploy, and promote innovative mobility solutions. Her leadership and skillset infuse all project stages, from planning and concept development through testing and deployment. Leveraging a network of resources from across the United States, Choudhary recently led the State of Ohio's CV/AV Systems Engineering Analysis and helped develop the nation's first statewide systems engineering guidebook for CV/AV technology deployments.

Choudhary holds Bachelor's and Master's Degrees from New York University.
